Reviews on Google
Maps make your business visible on Google Search

One intangible benefit of being a Local Guide is being able to give a boost to small businesses that you care about. Maps users rely heavily on Google business profiles when deciding where to spend their money. Adding user-generated content (such as reviews, photos, and videos) to Google Maps' business listings makes those businesses more visible on Google's local search results, elevating their local SEO (how visible a listing is when doing a Google search from a specific location).

While having lunch with my friend and photographer
Todd EH

We thought to call the restaurant "No Name" due to its lack of a facade.

The chosen name by the friendly owner was Gorilla

Our Numbers on Google Maps

Level 7

A mockup of the Google Maps review interface. It shows the Google Maps logo, a hand icon pointing to the number 80,000, and the text 'total review views'. Below this is a review card for 'Jomtien Night Mark...' dated 8/1/23, featuring a 5-star rating and a text review. At the bottom, the word 'Impact!' is written in large red letters.
